

URANTIA ANNUAL RETREAT 2018

at CHARNEY MANOR

Oxfordshire

Friday 7th to Sunday 9th September 2018

The Urantia Association for the United Kingdom & Ireland (UAI UK & Ireland) will hold its 2018 annual retreat at Charney Manor just south-west of Oxford. It is a 13th century manor house at Charney Bassett, near Wantage in Oxfordshire. It is a conference and retreat centre run by the Society of Friends (Quakers) and a peaceful, safe and beautiful venue surrounded by lovely gardens in a village setting.

The light and spacious converted barn meeting room (right) will add a unique atmosphere to our 2018 Retreat.

As well as a variety of local countryside walks, there are also places of interest near by. The White Horse Hill, located in the village of Uffington. The historic Kelmscott Manor is a short distance away which will give you insight into William Morris's history by touring the family home. Charney Bassett village also has a fascinating history.

Cost: £203 for ensuite accommodation in single or twin rooms and full board from 4pm Friday to 4pm Sunday. Disabled facilities are available.

Numbers are limited so please book as early as possible. Send a £50 deposit to Gary Rawlings to secure your place. Contact Gary on garyurantia@aol.com.
